

Dankie!

Hi Office National Family Member

Dankie! Dankie dat jy deel is van die Office National Familie!!!

Here is lucky letter number 6 in our “Phrase Generator” competition. Collect all letters in the series to match the secret 10 letter phrase where you could win R20 000!!!

Habits that probably annoy your colleagues

Read on to make sure that you aren’t engaging in any of these habits which are driving your colleagues mad...

1. Interruptions

No, we don’t mean interrupting someone when they are talking, although that too is a bad habit. Interrupting your co-workers whilst they are clearly concentrating is also not okay. Working in an open plan office is no excuse for disturbing your fellow colleagues whilst they are busy.

2. Making a Mess

No one wants to have to look at your desk if it’s a messy eyesore and neither do they want to clean the kitchen or microwave because you’ve left it in a mess. Show respect for your colleagues by keeping mutual workspaces clean and tidy.

3. Time

Being constantly late for work is super annoying. If everyone else can get to work on time, you should make the effort to do the same. Showing up late for meetings is rude and shows disrespect for the time of others which is probably why it infuriates your colleagues!
